The Broad Institute: Pioneering a new model of biomedical science

About the Seminar:

Meeting the challenges of biomedicine requires bringing together world-class expertise across many disciplines, exceptional and creative scientists, and unprecedented technological resources.

Boston area's pre-eminent biomedical research organizations: MIT, Harvard, Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Brigham & Women's Hospital, Children's Hospital, Dana Farber Cancer Institute, & MA General Hospital all bring their particular strengths to The Broad, weaving them together in a collaborative effort to completely transform medicine & biology here and worldwide.

Gathered at The Broad Institute are world-influencing and brilliant minds in biomedicine.

Students will tour the labs, meet with leading scientists and get an inside view.

Here's what they work on:
